Within 14 days of delivery of the ordered goods, the customer has the right to return them without giving a reason within the framework of withdrawal from the contract according to the general principles resulting from the provisions on concluding distance contracts. The prerequisite for acceptance of the return is the return of the purchased goods without any signs of use together with a correctly filled out return slip. The returned goods will be refunded after deduction of the total shipping costs within 14 days to the specified account from receipt of the return (does not apply to exchanges). The buyer bears the cost of returning the goods. We do not accept cash on delivery shipments.
